It is better to see "men as trees walking" than not to see at all.

The only way to keep from backsliding is to keep sliding forward.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

"August Flower"

Eight doctors treated me for Heart Disease and one for Rheumatism, but did me no good. I could not speak aloud. Everything that I took into the stomach distressed me. I could not sleep. I had taken all kinds of medicines. Through a neighbor I got one of your books. I procured a bottle of Green's August Flower and took it. I am to-day stout, hearty and strong and enjoy the best of health. August Flower saved my life and gave me my health. Mrs. Sarah J. Cox, Defiance, O.

WORN NIGHT AND DAY.

OUR WIT AND HUMOR.

LATEST PRODUCTIONS OF THE FUNNY WRITERS.

The Old Stage Driver Hears of a Washington Tragedy—How Mr. Rosenbatt Was Saved from Drowning—Witty Sayings.

Not the Same Bill.

Old Stage Driver—I wish I was in Washington. There's going to be a lynching here and I'd like to take a hand. I read in the paper that they were going to kill "Silver Bill," who has been making trouble. I knowed him in Arizona before the war.—Texas Siftings.

Rolling Passion.

Solomon Isaacs—Vell, Doctor, if I've got to die, I die gonimend. My life was insured for ten thousand dollars. Doctor—I think, with the aid of tonics, I can keep you alive for a week longer.

Solomon Isaacs—Don't do it, doctor. Der bromium comes due der day after to-morrow.

To Remove the Cause.

Primus—Collins has admitted that he drinks too much.

Secundus—Has he said he would reform?

Primus—Yes.

Secundus—What's his idea—Keeley Cure?

Primus—No; he will vote with the Prohibitionists hereafter.

Asserted Himself.

Coroner—You say you told the hired girl to get out of the house the minute you discovered the fire, and she refused to go?

Mrs. Barnoud—Yes, sir. She said she must have a month's notice before she'd think of leaving.—Puck.

Not an Exhibition.

Philanthropist (pushing through crowd around man who has fainted)—What all this man?

Small Boy—He's been out o' work for three days, an' ain't had nothin' to eat dat's all.

Philanthropist—Do you know who he is?

Small Boy—Yes; he's Professor Bones, de sixty-day faster.

Economy is Wealth.

Goldski (dictating a letter)—My dear Mr. Schankelhausenheimer—

Miss Keytap—How do you spell that name?

Goldski—S-c-h-a-p; oh, py de ray, I think you better begin der letter "My Dear Sir," and save de voar und tear on de machine.

Explained.

Pike—What is the meaning of that saying, "He gives twice who gives quickly?"

Dyke—It means that he generally gives twice as much as the fellow who doesn't give quickly.

Translated.

"What does 'que non' mean?"

Externally, "but no," translated freely, it's what a French girl says when she wants to marry a man and at the same time wants to refuse him.

An Inspiration.

Rosenbatt—Help, help, Bloomberg! I'm exhausted—I can't swim any more!

Bloomberg (with great presence of mind)—Here's a meeting of Hosten's creditors at der hotel—hurry up, oh! you want to put in your claim!—Puck.

Woman's Trust.

Venice, the bride of the sea, alumbered.

In the moonlight a youth pleaded with his innamorata to fly with him. "Let us away in my gondola!" he exclaimed, passionately.

She gazed into his love-warm eyes. "Yes," she suddenly cried, "I am forced to trust thee! You—"

The last battlement of doubt before the citadel of her heart had been scaled.

"won't wobble the boat, will you, dearest?"

She paused not for reply, but stepped aboard the graceful craft.

A Scheme.

"May" he whispered, fondly, as they adjourned to the piazza: "I bought a house to-day in the country."

"Oh, Tom!" she murmured.

"Yes," he returned: "A beautiful little house—nice lawn—flower bed—chicken house—vine-covered piazza and trees."

"How lovely!" she cried. "And it is all ours, Tom—will be, I mean—all ours to do with just as we please? To paint whatever color we like, and select our own wall-paper?"

"Yes, my dear," he returned; "that's just it."

"And is it very far?" she asked.

"Too far for Mama to travel!" He frowned ever so slightly in the darkness.

"No," he answered; "it is quite near—I have to go to business every day, you know."

"Then, Tom," she said, gently, "it will be just the thing. We'll rent it to papa and mama, and live in this city house ourselves to keep it in repair—and it will be cheaper for them, for we won't charge very much rent, will we?"

And as the scheme in all its majesty burst upon Tom's mind, he answered, faintly: "No o'—Puck."

A Free Treat.

"Isn't it a shame," said the Chicagoan, "that a person has to pay fifty cents for entering the Fair, and not a cent when he leaves it? He enters Chicago then—Ex."

Extra Precautions.

"I suppose after the burning of the cold storage building the World's Fair managers are uneasy, eh?"

"Yes," in the art gallery they've ordered the water colors to be mixed up with the oil paintings for safety."

It Had That Look.

"This note from the editor," said Spacery, "looks to me very much like a frame-out."

"What does he say?" asked the office boy.

"Hereafter he wants me to do yachting in winter, and skating contests in summer."

Forewarned—Forewarned.

Casey (as he looks over the fence and sees the Widow Braunigan beating her carpet)—Be th' Saints above, O'll not ask Mary Ann Braunigan to be me wife, now, to save me loife!

Laid Aside for Summer.

Missionary—Here you are massacring people after the old sinful fashion. Have you renounced Christianity?

Aborigine—Oh, dear, no! I was only taking a summer vacation.

That Was Different.

Fond Husband—Three hundred dollars for a dress? It is preposterous! You can not afford to wear such clothes.

Loring Wife—Why not, darling?

Fond Husband—Because the price is outrageous and I cannot afford to pay it.

Loring Wife—O, that's all right, dearie! I thought at first you said I couldn't afford to wear it.—Ex.

Logic Is Logic.

"May I call you Mae?"

"But you have known me such a short time."

Gaunt Poverty.

Dolan—Sure, ould England's goin' down fast. It's poverty-stricken they are!

Dooley—Is that so?

Dolan—I has it in black an' white. Th' paper says only man person in was boondered an' alevnty-delve givarried for drunkenness in a whole year.

A Quotation.

Brown—You didn't get that Federal appointment you were after.

Jones (proudly)—No, sir. I'm un-awel by power and uncorrupted by patronage.

The Average Office-Seeker.

"So Jobson has asked the President to give him an English consularship. On what does he base his claims?"

"On his ability to speak the language."

A Big Bargain.

William Ann—You haven't got a cook here that would weigh, say, 500 pounds, have you?

Intelligence—I aye—Mercy, no! Why must you have such a big one?

William Ann—My wife bought a 4-cent for 8 cents and she wants a cook she can give it to.

Cream of Tartar and Soda

Have uses in cooking well known to every housekeeper; but the method of refining them to make them chemically pure, and of mixing them together so as to produce their greatest leavening power and best results when combined, is a matter of great exactness, requiring the most expert knowledge and skill.

Royal Baking Powder

Is the product of this knowledge and experience and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars in patents and appliances for its preparation. It is a compound of strictly pure cream of tartar and absolutely pure soda, combined with exactness and care by famous chemists, and it will produce most wholesome and delicate bread, biscuit, cake, rolls, etc., than can be had where this modern agent of cooking is not used.

Beware of the cheap compounds called baking powders to catch the unwary. They are made with alum and are poisonous.

A Mean Trick.

A lawyer defending promissory note went to lunch, leaving his books and citations on the table in the courtroom. The opposing counsel sneaked back into the room and changed the places of all his book marks. In the afternoon the lawyer, taking up his books, referred the court to his authorities. His lordship noted every volume and page carefully and took the case under consideration. In rendering his opinion he said: "I was inclined, after hearing the argument of counsel for the defendant, to non-suit plaintiff, but I find, after referring to the authorities quoted by counsel, none of them bear on this case, and I am led to think that the gentleman has willfully been trying to insult the court. He has referred me to an action of an Irishman who sued the proprietor of a monkey for damages for biting him, to a case of arson, one of burglary, two of petty larceny and three divorce cases, none of which bear on action to recovery on a promissory note. Perhaps the grossest insult to the court is referring to 'Duckworth vs. Hoogman,' an action charging defendant with breach of promise. Judgment for plaintiff."
